The Abbeville Press & Banner says:

Our neighbor the Anderson Intelligences has greatly excited the fears of the poor debter of Anderson County in reference to the Constitutional exemption guaranteed to them by the Constitution of the State, and the rich creditor has laid the flattering unction to his soul that the year of jubilee has come. The Walhalla Courie, the Pickens Sentine!, the Newberry Herald, if we remember rightly, have each had labored articles on this subject, leaning to the Intelligences's mistaken versicn of the matter, in sympathy for the poor debtor, and discussing the effect of an alleged decree of the Court. Sheriff DuPra received instructions the other day to proceed in certain cases as if those who had no land were not entitled to the homestead exemption in personalty, with the intimation that the Court hades decided, as the newspapers had alleged. Our Sheriff wrote the Clerk of the Supreme Court for a certified copy of the decision, and from the foliowing letter it will be seen that no such decision has been rendered:

COLUMBIA, Nov. 3 1879.

J. F. C. DuPra, Sheriff—Dear Sir: The Court have rendered no such decision as you refer to. In the case of Duncan vs. Barrett, the Court decided that the Legislature had no right to extend the exemption so as to embrace articles not specified in the Constitution. In the subsequent case of Spencer vs. Harman, the Court re-affirmed this. In that case, cotton, corn and bacon made by a man on reated premiers, were claimed, but not allowed, under the decision in Duncan vs. Barrett.

Yours truly,

Albert M. BOOZER, Clerk.

This way of bridging the matter over gaunds very well, but when the decisions The Abbeville Press & Banner says:

sounds very well, but when the decisions are read it will be seen that their legiticlusion we have reached. It is true no case involving the sale of a horse or of case involving the sale of a horse or of household property has been before the Supreme Court, but the principle involved has been discussed by the Supreme Court in the cases decided. It is a most unfortunate strong we think, a most unreasonable deal of which the Legislature at its approaching session ought to remedy as soon and as effect-

SHAM DEMOCRACY. The card of Mr. W. J. Gayer, the independent candidate for Mayor of Charles-ton, is published on another page as an example of the consummate presump-tion and reckless effort at deception which is usually characteristic of the men who prefer their own promotion to their country's welfare. Mr. Gayer pro-fesses to be a true Democrat, but for that matter professions do not prove anything. The devil haz often professed holiness. However, to establish his loy-alty, he quotes Gov. Hampton as authority for his course, forgetting, we pre-sume, that Satan himself has often wied to suntain his course by quoting Scrip-ture itself. The trouble with Mr. Gayer is, that he talks Democracy but sets Re-publicanism. He, and men of his stamp in South Carolina, are to Democracy gloss. They are both trying by artful devices and well metured circumventions to overthrow that which they know it would be usaless openly to attack. This is the old ruse, and Mr. Gayer has played it so buiglingly that he has not even given it variation enough to make it interesting, for he is thoroughly understood to be a simon-pure Republican donkey, who is trying to terrify the country by wearing a Democratic Hon skin. His braying has already marked his identity, and all who web for him will do so with a full knowledge that they are voting to elect the Republican candidate.

It is generally circulated that Gov. Bampton is activaly sugged in promoting the interests of one of the gubernatedidates in this State. Of the correginess of the statement we know nothing, but if it turns out to be well founded its. The people of South Carolina have got the idea some way or other that they have the right to select the Governor, and respect, even from our greatly admired Sonator, who would be fully qualified to nt un executivo officer, if the Con-Hodly lead by a combinet in or by an individual. They submitted to some-thing of the kind in the last election, but they will not do no again. Every man

THE STATE PAIR.

The late State Fair held in Columbia was a decided success. The exhibition in the various departments were not only ood, but in many respects, superior to those of former years. A large number of citizens from different parts of the State attended, the hotels, and boardinghouses were crammed, and the Fair financially a success. The exhibitors from Anderson were remarkably sucessful, as will appear from the list of remiums awarded them, published in another column. The State and County Fairs, if efficiently directed and properly patronized by the people, will greatly promote the development of the industrial enterprises of the State, and add to the material prosperity of all classes.

A POLITICAL MANIAC.

His Respects to Grant, but Death to the Union.

CHICAGO, November 13.—The Daily New haying invited the Governors of the States and prominent Southen men to send congratulations on Grant's return, received a number of such congratulations, including one from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, from General Longstreet, and the following from Hon. Robert Toombs:

ATLANTA, GA.—M. E. Stone, Editor: Your telegram received. I decline to answer, except to say present my personal congratulations to Gen. Grant on his safe arrival to his country. He fought for his country honorably and won; I fought for mine and lost. I am ready to try it over again. Death to the Union. (Signed)

The Other Letters to Grant.

Washington, D. C., November 11.—
Your telegram of November 8, to me at Atlanta, Ga., has just been received here.
In reply I can only say if I could be in Chicago on the occasion of General Grant's reception there, referred to in your telegram, I would cortainly pay my respects to him in person, and ovince my kind regards by tendering him, with thousands of others, irrespective of party, a hearty congratulation on his safe return from his extensive travels, and for the high honors he received wherever he went on his tour around the world.
His generous, magnanimous and patriotic he went on his tour around the world. His generous, magnanimous and patriotic sentiments, expressed to the ex-Confederates at San Francisco, met a warm response from the breast of millions in this country without regard to sections or those political differences of opinion which led to the late lamentable conflict in arms. That no such differences may ever rise again should be the earnest desire of every patriot.

ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.

GAINESVILLE, GA., November 11.—I beg leave to congratulate you and the good people of Chicago upon the return of General Grant to your city. Attendions received during his tour around the world were just tributes to the great American soldier—statesman, and should be remembered with pride, and all should express appreciation to the great man safely returned to his native land. We have many excellent men who most naturally and properly aspire to the highest office of the people, but it seems deeply set in their hearts to ennoble the Nation by again honoring Grant. Most respectfully.

Killing of a Colored Boy by a Drunken Rowdy. — Dispatch to the News and Courier from Spartanburg November 16: "At 10 o'clock last night Pet Hawkins, a colored boy aged about wenty-one years, was shot in the left breast by some unknown party and almost instantly killed. Mr. J. J. Eckman, in front of whose store the shooting took place, says that he heard somebody say, with an cath, "Take your hand out of my collar!" but before he could get to the door he heard a pistol shot and saw a man run. Two negro men say they saw the man who fired the pistol, but can only identify him as a strange white man with a capon. At the coroner's inquest over the remains of Pet Hawkins, the evidence went to show that Thomas White, of Cowpens, this county, did the shooting. He was arrested at 2 o'clock this morning. Today the coroner continued the case, gathering additional evidence. The jury's verdict was to the effect that Pet Hawkins came to his death by the hands of White, who was committed to jail to await his trial at the next term of court. White, testifying in his own behalf, says he was drunk at the time, and knows nothing of the affair or what he was doing at the time. The only mystery now is the motive—the jury finding no motive which would even justify a quarrel.

FATAL BURNINGS.—Last week the neighborhood of Meadow Woods, in Bogansyille Township, had two fatal accidents from burning.

On Monday two colored children were left in the house while their mother went to the spring to wash. The oldest went into the yard to plsy, but in a short time the youngest came screaming to the door, its clothes in flames. Both children ran to the spring, but before relief came the Litld was so badly burned that it died in a few hours.

On Wednesday following, on Mr. B. Fincher's farm, a colored woman with an infant child about three days old, were burnt to death by the roof of the cabin catching fire from the chilmency. After the fire no traces of the child could be found, and only the skull, a portion of the spinal column and a part of the heart of the woman were taken from the ruins.

Monphis is threatened with decay, if not extinction.

— It having been asserted that General Hancock, who had charge of Mrs. Surratt before her execution, treated her with severity and refused to allow a clergyman of her church to see her in order to grant her absolution, the priest who attended her, Rev. J. A. Walter, of St. Patrick's Church, Washington, has made the following statement: Truth and justice compel me to deny the statement with reference to Gen. Hancock's participation in the execution of Mrs. Surratt. I attended Mrs. Surratt on that occasion, and met with no interference on the part Gen. Hancock. Gen. Hancock had great of sympathy for this unfortunate lady, and waited un'! I the last moment, hoping for a reprieve. I consider it an act of justice to Gen. Hancock that this statement should be made."

UNPARALLELLED!

Never Heard of in this Country Before!

Hundreds are Acknowledging Every Day that they are Buying Goods CHEAPER at the

PARIS STORE

Than Anywhere Else.

BUT WHAT TELLS THE STORY?

This fact cannot be denied, for I started out with the determination not only

NOT TO BE UNDERSOLD.

BUT TO REMAIN

THE REGULATOR AND DICTATOR

Now since the Trading Public is aware of these facts, and I am receiving a good share of their patronage, I will only

LOW PRICES.

MAKE IT TO YOUR INTERST TO TRADE WITH ME.

In constantly keeping such Goods as can generally be found in a first-class City Dry Goods House.

I am now receiving every day-

Dry Goods, Clothing,

Dress Goods, Domestics, Furnishing Goods,

> Boots, Shoes, Underwear,

> > Scarfs, Ties,

&c. &c.
